Overview of Journey so far

- 7 months into our 300 month journey we focus on our 2 targeted countries for 2018, namely Kenya and Ghana. The awareness of our programme and its local impact is growing rapidly. We seek to conclude terms for beginning our work in both countries before Xmas 2018. The healthcare journey for the circa 80 million combined population begins in January 2019.
- Sales on Remus Coin expected to exceed 8 million coins by the end of August 2018 as demand amongst core suppliers and key partners increase. Remus Coin begins its journey to full regulatory approval as a security in the UK.
- A suite of 8 upstream Oil concessions have been identified across Kenya and Ghana and Remus seeks to acquire operatorship and licenses before Xmas 2018. The current estimated Net Asset Value is in excess of $15 BN USD.
- A detailed review of core functionality for our Telemedicine App has been conducted including a delivery module for those living in remote locations. We remain on track for our launch in January 2019.
- Remus in addition to its operational bases in Kenya and Ghana, which are being established as we speak, will open over the period of October/November 2018, bases in the Philippines and Mexico. This will firmly establish a corporate presence on 4 continents globally.

Board Advisors

- 3 New Board advisors have been nominated
 - Mrs. Gurjeet Phull Jenkins – Oil & Gas Advisor Kenya
 - Mr. Dennis Awori – Government Affairs Advisor Kenya
 - Dr. Neils Hammond – Medical Services Advisor Ghana
- Efficient management of key stakeholder relationships in our target countries is fundamental to our success and in just under one month since their appointment the above individuals have had a material impact on our engagements in Kenya and Ghana.

Smart Healthcare Cities – Further Developments

- Remus will deploy a 2.5MW (mega watt) solar farm at each SHC to power the energy needs of the facility providing off-grid renewable energy as an integral part of the Remus Offer.

- Remus will deploy 500 social housing units next to each SHC for local staff and community needs, fulfilling our commitment to being a socially responsible partner to National Governments in our target countries.

Oil & Gas Opportunities - $15 BN USD

- 8 opportunities have been identified in Kenya; 2 of which are proven reserves; this initial portfolio of assets and our access to them is being worked on at present.
- 2 opportunities have been identified in Ghana; both are unproven and prospective however, further work will be done over 4Q 2018 to assess their true commercial value.
- Other opportunities have been examined in Senegal and Madagascar, but these have taken secondary priority to immediate opportunities in Kenya and Ghana.
- Current conservative estimates show potential Net Asset Value of in excess of $15 BN USD at this time, further analysis over the coming months will provide greater precision.

Remus Coin – Regulatory Approval UK

- US and UK authorities have in the last month deemed all crypto currencies as CIS – Collective Investment Schemes and as such the underlying coin / token is to be considered a security.
- By definition any launch of a coin in either country which is not approved as a security will be considered non compliant under securities and exchange laws. The legal ramifications for those currencies which have launched in either country are significant.
- Remus has always seen “Regulatory Approval” as the fundamental and legitimate course of action to take; these recent developments vindicate our decision to pursue regulation. Remus Coin has begun the journey to regulatory approval in the UK and will be advised by our lawyers Addleshaw Goddard.
- This will transform our launch from an “ICO” to an “IPO” with all that this course of action entails. Financial Advisors for the “IPO” will be communicated shortly. Current candidates being considered include: Credit Suisse, Deutsche Bank and Morgan Stanley.
- Whilst timing for our launch remains to be defined, the high level of protection to our investors afforded by this course of action is unparalleled for any crypto currency today.

CEO's Comments

The restructuring of the current global healthcare industry is, and will always be, a journey of challenges and compromises. Remus has made a promising start to this journey bringing together industrial expertise and specialist healthcare professionals whilst carefully nurturing political support in target countries.

The innovative approach of Oil for Healthcare facilitated and secured via a crypto currency is gaining traction and interest. Naturally questions of feasibility continue to reign amongst authorities and professionals alike, however the resolve and outstanding professionalism of the team at Remus has made the first 7 months of this journey significant.

We proceed with a combination of precision and operational excellence ensuring every step of the journey is assessed and measured with care, maintaining a focus on the healthcare user and his and her needs.

I remain quietly confident that our targets for 2018 will be achieved and the foundation for the journey ahead will be solid. I would like to take this opportunity to personally thank the Remus Team, our Investors and Funders and the many 3rd party organisations and institutions that have provided support and guidance.
